*"Let us remember...
Best we forget."*

*The Arrow Staff
Cleveland High School

Presents...

Alma Mater

We salute your proud past. We have learned the meaning of loyalty...the value of friendships...the glory of victories that triumph over past defeat. You have prepared us for the years to come...and it is with humility and gratitude that we resolve that our future achievements shall add honor to your name.

“Reflections”

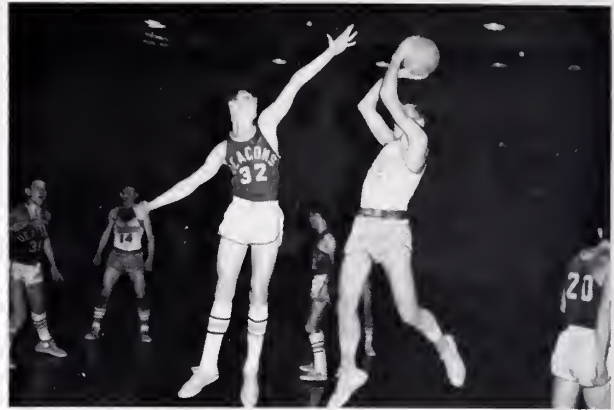

Homecoming Queen
Miss Virginia P. Artrip

"I could have danced all night!"

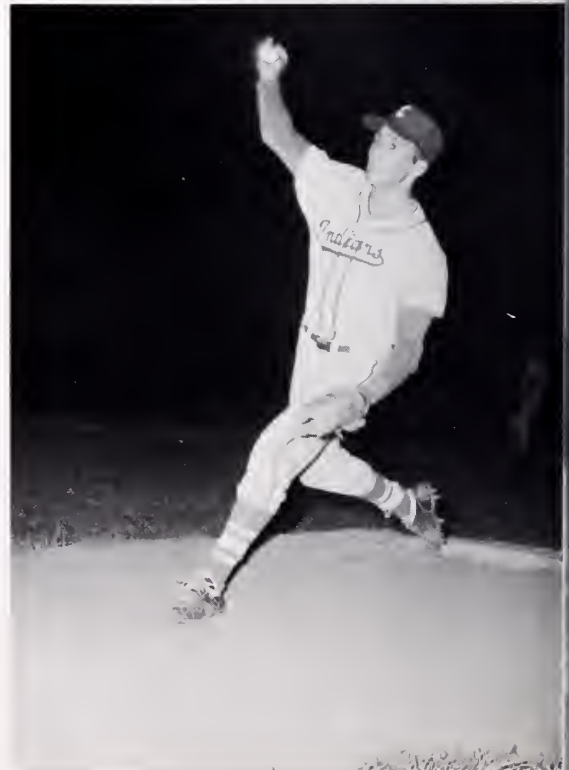

Two points . . .

Busy . . . busy . . . busy!

Jacque doesn't believe in making small-talk at the lunch table.

Another strike?

*We Pause for a second to reflect on the scene
we are leaving. These are memories of friends,
places, and things...
happy faces...work and play. All this made up a part of our lives.*

Would you believe this is a lounge?

"Would you believe that doesn't look like your mother's handwriting?"

Mrs. Arrington assists her Home Ec. girls in preparing a meal.

We will forever hold in our hearts fond memories of these wonderful years.

Respectfully Dedicated

Dedication

Education, the fundamental to man's emergence, is little more than the teacher. This year, we take a sincere and genuine pride in dedicating the ARROW to a teacher who exhibits the qualities to which we aspire.

She has served our school in positions of multiplicity, as librarian, as director of guidance, and as classroom teacher. We know her more personally as a teacher of English, shorthand, and typing. Her background and subject knowledge provide for an understandable ease of presentation.

Her insight into the needs of youth and her understanding of their personal problems makes her classroom a place for valuable experience.

With appreciation and respect, we dedicate this book to Mrs. Frances H. Morgan...may our paths meet again.

MIND SET

Once the mind is set . . . the time has come to reconsider.

Decision needs to be constantly tempered with good judgment, and the application of this intangible must be artistically developed. Bantered opinion and imaginative conclusion, lest principle and caution intervene, will develop into factors of decision minus the necessary element of basic thought.

The age of responsibility has, to a degree, become the age of triviality. That which once carried purpose and attainable goals is now considered by many as moot or valueless. Cultivate within yourself the mental response to avoid instantaneous decision. Through the exercise of deliberate thought and considered good sense train yourself to reasonable approach and validity of solution. Be reasonable.

"Then we'll pass and be forgotten with the rest."

"Here's a policeman's badge, Gary, in case you should ever need one."
(A small token from giftorians, Mason, Virginia, Sandy).

Mitzi, Ira, and Jenny review some of the "highlights" of the passed twelve years. Needless to say, some of the highlights should have been kept as "lowlights."

And Dewey says (for the second time) "Let's sing 'When the Saints Go Marching In.'"

"Mixing and pouring, and slopping it up, Mitzi keeps drinking cup after cup."

A corsage of yellow carnations, the class flower, was presented to Mrs. Betty C. Yates by Mason Grizzle, Senior Class President.

The Senior Class of 1967 dedicates to the graduating Senior Class "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Senior Class Night Tuesday, May 31

Teresa Williams and Joyce Boggs read the "Last Will and Testament" of the out-going Senior Class.

Processional begins for the Baccalaureate Service with smiling faces and patches of blue and white.

Baccalaureate, Sunday, May 29

Guest speakers, Reverend Richard Hale and Reverend Allen B. Walsh, chat with Hugh Morgan, Principal, Linda Musick and Bradley Musick.

Senior boys prepare for their premier in caps and gowns. They are assisted by Senior Class Sponsor, Betty C. Yates.

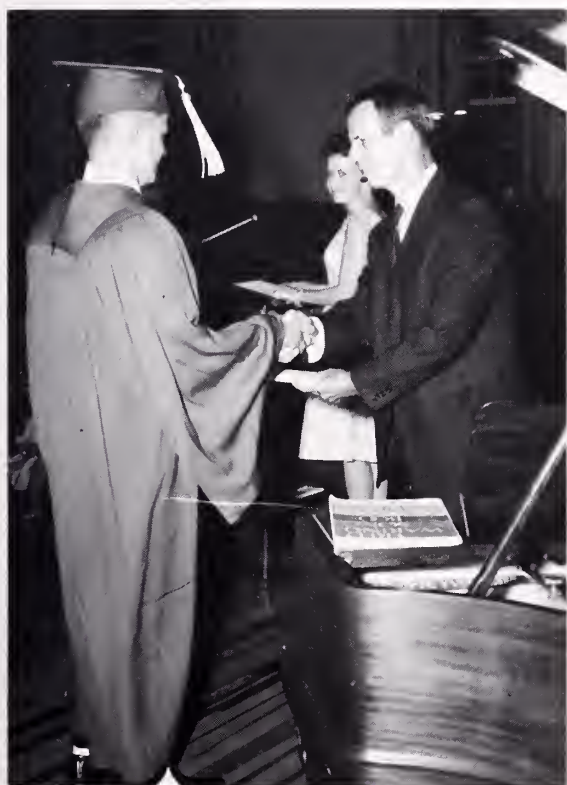

The address was given by Rev. Leon Castle of Kingsport, Tennessee.

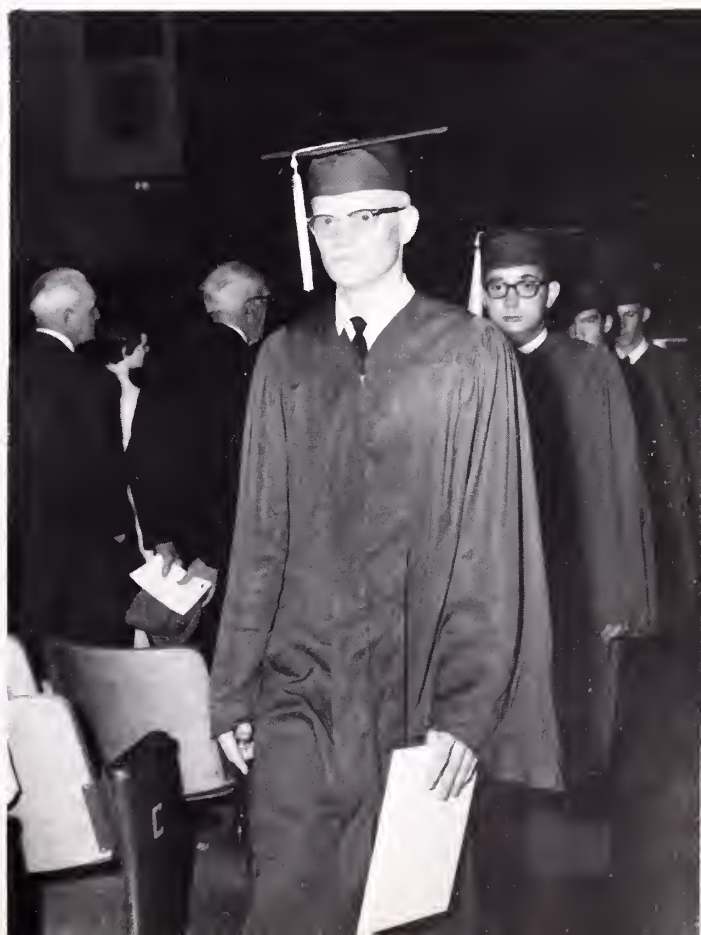

At the reception immediately following commencement, friends and relatives congratulate new graduates.

Graduation, Thursday, June 2

Mr. H. R. Morgan, Jr., Principal awarded the diplomas and Helen S. Owens, Assistant Principal, announced the roll of graduates.

Graduation is a time of mixed emotion. The recessional is for Seniors a time for nostalgia.
